MCC to hold free online FAFSA workshops for public

MILES CITY, MONTANA: Miles Community College (MCC) will be holding four separate online FAFSA workshops, aimed to help navigate recent changes with the application for federal student aid. Parents/guardians, as well as students, are encouraged to attend any of the four available sessions, held online via Zoom.

The MCC Financial Aid office will be on hand to guide those filling out the application and to answer any questions, sharing insights and resources to help overcome obstacles encountered during the FAFSA process. These special Zoom sessions will be filled with informational material and valuable insights for everyone attending, whether they've applied for federal aid in the past or are just getting started on their educational experience.
